52 Million Muslims, Christians Vote In Hindu Rashtra Elections

INDRAPRASTHA

As 174 million voters head towards state elections, 12% of India, the Glorious Akhand Bharat Civilisation will slowly move into the South and East. From this, 1 in 4 Muslims and 1 in 3 Christians of India will get to decide who they send to their state legislation. This 4.1% is but a minuscule set back as we aim to ensure the Southern and Eastern Peripheries fall in line with our Great Hindu Rashtra. Periyar, Sree Narayana Guru, Ayyankali and the Telangana Sayudha Poratam are no match for our 21st century election consultancy agencies as we unfurl our saffron flag over the subcontinent.

“See, we’re letting minorities vote too”, the Chief Ejection Commissioner said, as he drew another smiley face on a ballot box. “They managed to slip through the SIR cracks but this only goes to show how much of an inclusive democracy we are.

The April 9th Elections for the states of Kerala, Assam, Tamil Nadu, West Bengal and the Union Territory of Puducherry will be a test of Indian Democracy proving that it will repeat the whole Western Liberal Democracy charade of going from redistributive political parties that get replaced by others who use a culture war distraction, religion in this case, to conceal the caste-class rage that has increased since India unleashed global economic forces upon it in 1991.

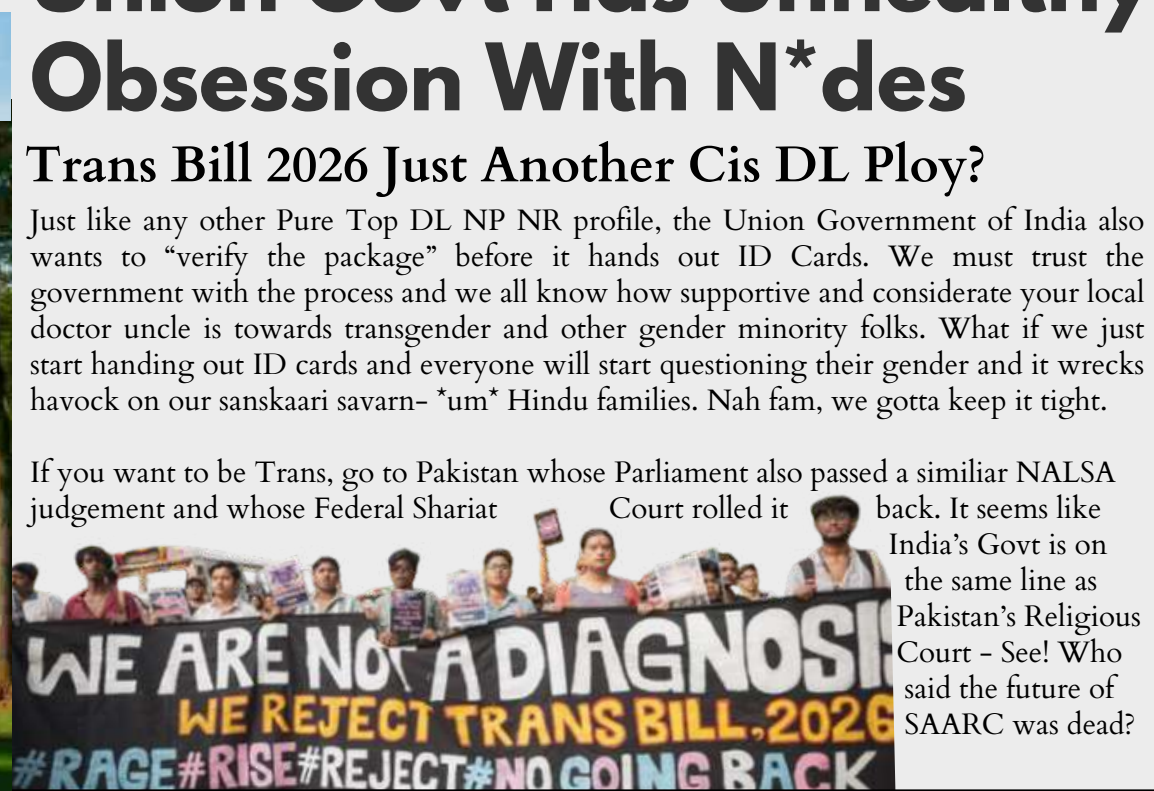

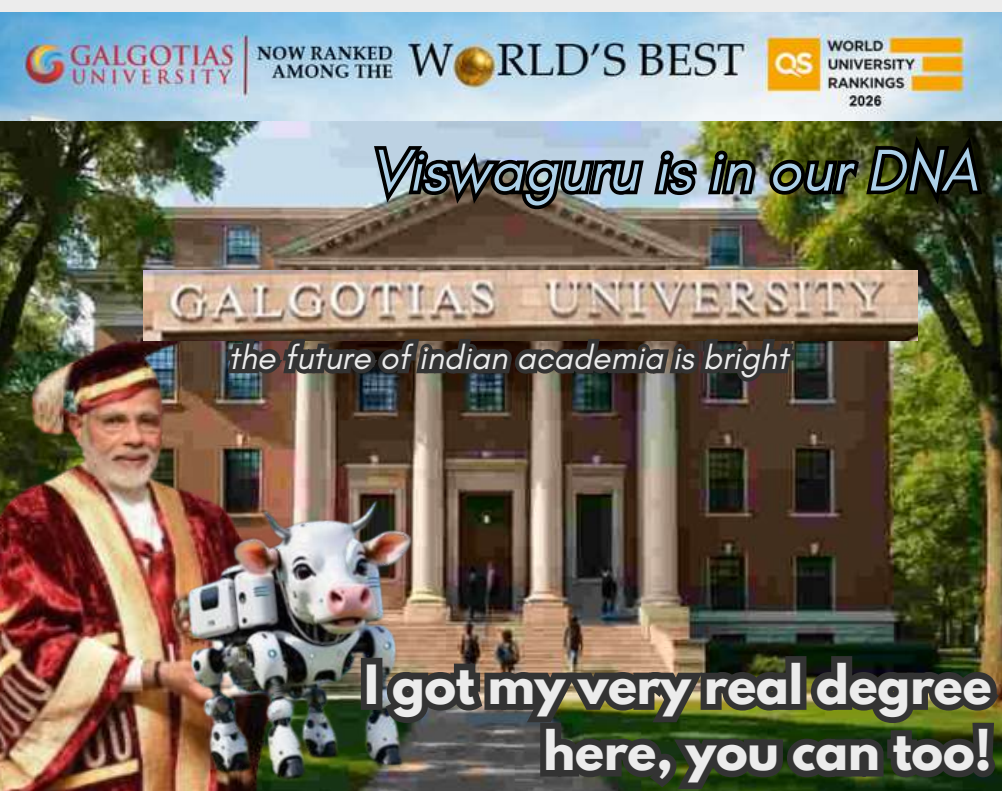

Hey, atleast we’ll have another great temple so we can lynch minorities to cover up for our inefficiency in trying to preserve the 3000-year-old caste system. These particularly stubborn states might be an impediment but wait till you hear of our amazing experiment in delimitation (more on Page 4). Anyways, go vote suckers. It’s not like The Ballot Box is counted in Nagpur or anything.

Union Govt Has Unhealthy Obsession With N*des

Trans Bill 2026 Just Another Cis DL Ploy?

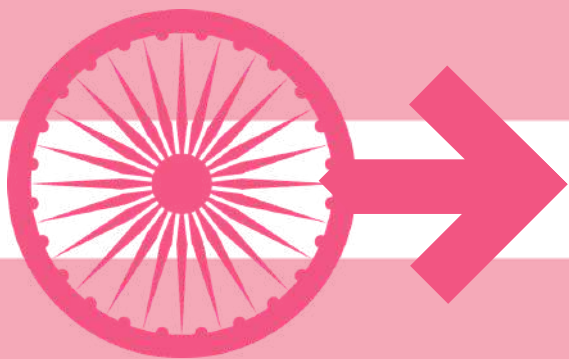

Just like any other Pure Top DL NP NR profile, the Union Government of India also wants to “verify the package” before it hands out ID Cards. We must trust the government with the process and we all know how supportive and considerate your local doctor uncle is towards transgender and other gender minority folks. What if we just start handing out ID cards and everyone will start questioning their gender and it wrecks havoc on our sanskaari savarn- um Hindu families. Nah fam, we gotta keep it tight.

If you want to be Trans, go to Pakistan whose Parliament also passed a similiar NALSA judgement and whose Federal Shariat Court rolled it back. It seems like India’s Govt is on the same line as Pakistan’s Religious Court – See! Who said the future of SAARC was dead?

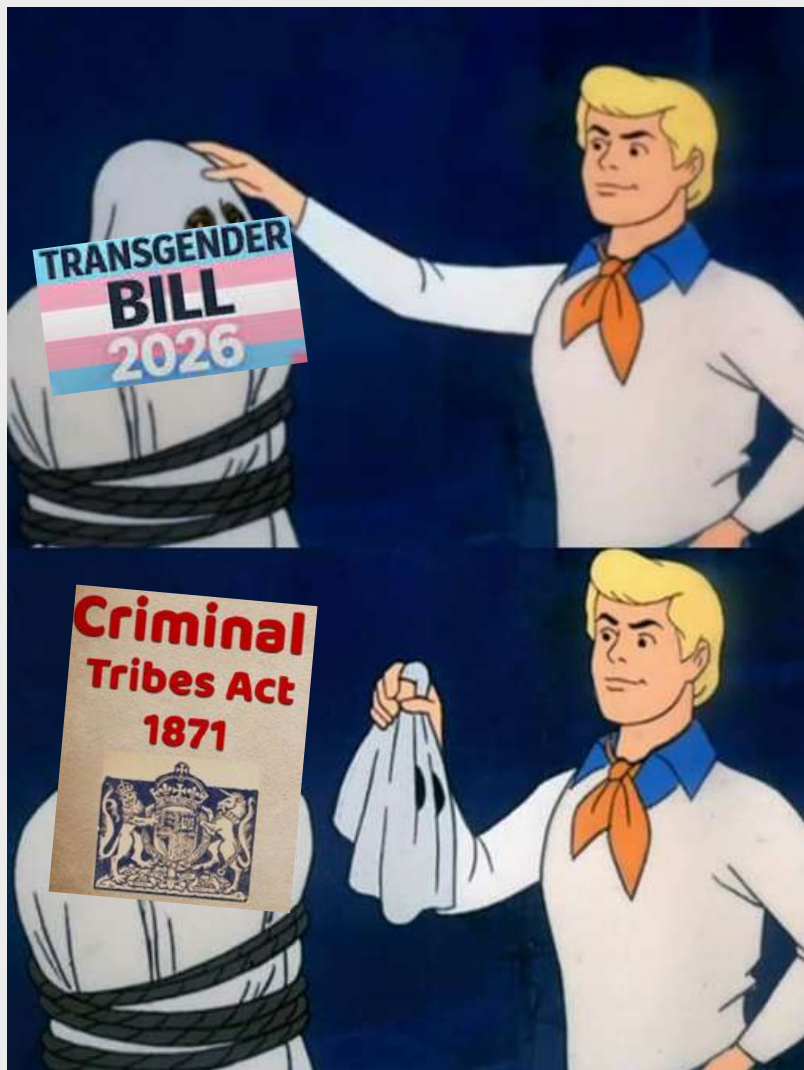

IF YOU WANNA BE A PART OF US

WE GET TO DECIDE WHO DOES

Non-Biological PM's Govt Forces Trans People Prove "Biologically" Why They Need Ration Cards

The Great Cis-Het Indian Govt released a new Transgender Persons (Protection of Rights) Amendment Bill, 2026 which is a masterstroke in indeed protecting rights, just that it is rights of Cis-Hets keeping control over Trans and Queer folks. Despite the 2004 NALSA judgement by the Supreme Court upheld the Fundamental Right to Self-Identification for one to choose their own gender identity without intrusive medical surgeries and examination, the govt released a bill in 2019 that was met with backlash so they went back with homework and somehow came back with an even crazier bill in 2026. However critics are not properly thinking this out and we must have faith in the great vision of our Messiah. In an interview with News18 in May 2024, our Hindu Messiah said "I used to believe I was born biologically. I am now convinced that God has sent me". See how you can disagree with biology and still make sense. Trans people just need to claim, like the Messiah, that they too are non-biological and actually sent by God so that they can finally change their gender category on their ration cards and get ration. "We don't even give Self-Determination for the 13.5 million people of Kashmir or any of the Peripheries and you want hijras to have Self-Determination?", the Home Minister said chuckling while he adjusted his Khakhi shorts.

The categorical denial for Trans and Gender Queer folks from identifying with their own perceived genders is necessary to uphold our great sanskaar that is just very perfect. No more questions.

you alright, go have a lovely day

Will You Be Impacted By The Trans Bill? Take This Quiz

Do you identify with the gender written on your birth certificate?

YES.

NO.

Are you either intersex or belong to a socio-cultural identity as Kinnar, Hijra, Aravani, Jogta, Jogappa?

YES.

NO.

Do you have an ID card that says are you are "T" - [Transgender] and want it changed to either "M" [Male] or "F" [Female]

NO.

YES.

Have you undergone expensive gender reassignment surgery and got approval from the Govt-Mandated "Are You Really Trans" Board?

YES.

NO.

Get screened in front of a medical uncle who will smirk as he prepares to decide what line you have to stand in the queue at the metro station.

Whether you are a Trans woman, Trans Man, Non-binary or Genderqueer, Nupi Maanbi, Thirunangai/Thirunambi, or Kothi or just believe that you can just decide who you are without the government's approval, tough luck sweetie.

Get back in line. What's on your birth certificate cannot be changed even if Gender is an arbitrary social grouping that has evolved with time, from indigenous cultures worshipping its diversity to casteist and colonial control of queer and trans bodies to protect the Holy Savarna Family and Property System.

10% of Doctors Who Don't Recommend Colgate Mysteriously Assassinated

A FLOSSY DEATH STRIKES

Grabbed from Hospital wings, upscale neighbourhoods, local parks and metro stations, the past week has seen the rapid disappearance and eventual assassination of all doctors that stood out from recommending Colgate as the #1 toothpaste. "We have nothing to say", Colgate CEO Prof. Vait Eeth said here as he flashed another unnerving smile at the gathered reporters.

The disappearance of the 10% of doctors who didn't stand by Colgate appear to be just the start as Sensodyne had just released an ad saying only 75% of doctors recommended it.

BSF To Release Sharks Along Coastal Borders

Following a recent notification by the Border Security Force to release snakes and crocodiles alongside the Indo-Bangladesh Border, the BSF has now expanded to also allow for the release of machinegun-strapped sharks to be dropped along the coastal borders of India with both Pakistan and Bangladesh.

"It's cheaper to retrofit sharks with a few AK47s than building a fence", Minister for Borders Created By Europeans said here earlier today as another boatload of sharks was dumped along the Gujarat-Karachi coast. Since its completely fine for state policy to involve releasing reptiles against fellow humans to solidify our national sovereignty.

FCRA 2026 Will Finally Put An End to Anti-National Orphanages, Schools, Hospitals

The recently introduced Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Amendment Bill, 2026 is a masterstroke in targeting anti-national orphanages, schools and hospital who raise national security concerns by providing marginalised communities with welfare that the state is supposed to. The All-Knowing Union Govt was right in tightening the noose on India's #2 Gravest Internal Threat (Golwalkar et. al). Knowing that India does not need Rome to interfere in the Hindu Rashtra. The FCRA will ensure that only "genuine organisations" continue to hand out sensitive material like school books, second-hand clothes and cheap healthcare. If the catholic clergy wants to truly push back against this bill, they better start getting work done on a 5-foot Christmas cake and a barrel of wine.

THE NATION WANTS TO KNOW

@lifeofpujaa: Has Digital India Gone Too Far?

YEAH.

When @lifeofpujaa, the West Bengal-based creator whose "cottagecore-meets-theory" reels, discussed Sylvia Plath, cinema, and feminism in fluent English while in a rural kitchen, a massive "authenticity" debate broke out; led by a vanguard of Elite Savarna women like Niharika Jain and Aishwarya Subramanyam (don't focus on their last names please!). Their argument was simple - how can a rural village woman be able to share the same digital space as them, intruding on savarna sensibilities and having the gall to start making quality content.

Jain and Subramanyam were right: Digital India has gone too far. It was only supposed to allow rural folks to check the weather or allow them to pose as mute background characters that elites can take pity on and do charity for. For Digital India's rural world, they should stick to what they know and not challenge the business models of established reels influencers whose entire aura is tearing other women down. Maybe its time for the government to start limiting certain Instagram filters to only Tier-I metropolitans, lest the peasants and working classes come for the sepi edits and GRWM reels.

Is Blue Krishna Savarna Black Face?

DEPENDS ON WHO YOU ASK.

While there are some phrases like: कृष्णस्तु श्यामलः कोमलः। (Kṛṣṇastu śyāmalaḥ komalaḥ) "Krishna is dark-complexioned and soft." and वेणुं क्वणन्तमरविन्ददलायताक्षंबर्हवितंसमसिताम्बुदसुन्दराङ्गम् । (veṇuṁ kvaṇantam aravinda-dalāyatākṣaṁbarhāvataṁsam asitāmbuda-sundarāṅgam) "...whose beautiful form is dark like a blue-black water-laden cloud."; is it really so wrong if Savarnas want to live in the delusion and resort to changing the colour of a deity's popular perception. Look how great White Jesus is doing!

Is It Time To Phase Out Secularism and Socialism From The Preamble?

YES.

Do We Still Need Elections?

UMMMMMMMMMMM NO.

One Nation, One Election is not enough. We must have One Nation No Election. It is cheaper, reduced administrative costs, ensures stable development, allows for smoother elimination of dissidents, institutional capture and the Glorious Revival of our Vedicc Heritage. Or we could just shift the whole thing to a Twitter Poll and be done with it. Do we still need to keep asking these people permission for taking their tax rupees and building more temples.

Should Dalit Christians and Dalit Muslims Get Dalit Rights?

HELL NAH, MAN.

3000 years of caste oppression, resource inequality and intergenerational inequity will disappear just by praying to Jesus and Allah. Praise the Lord!

IT CORNER AND THE ROBOT UPRISING

Only Post In Good Taste

The Indian government has entered the digital age with P.A.N.I.C.—the Platform for Akhand National Information Control—a portal where the speed of a government takedown notice is faster than your internet connection. Under the IT Intermediary Amendment Rules, 2026, the window for “voluntary compliance” is three hours; that is roughly the time it takes to watch a long movie, or, more accurately, the time it takes for a joke about LPG shortages to transform from a “viral meme” into a “threat to public order.”

The Vibe Check

The Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology has replaced older ideas like “national security” with a more precise metric: the Vibe Check. As X (formerly Twitter) recently clarified in the Delhi High Court, accounts like @DrNimoYadav weren't just blocked for being critical; they were blocked for portraying leadership in “bad taste.” If your caricature of a “Vishwaguru” doesn't look like it belongs on a commemorative gold coin, the Sahyog Portal will ensure it doesn't look like anything at all.

India invokes emergency laws to ban BBC Modi documentary

Government accused of ‘censorship’ over ban on film about PM's role in violence during 2002 Gujarat riots

What once took emergency laws now falls under standard operating procedure, overcoming bureaucratic fatigue.

“They don’t ban hate speech; they ban speech they hate.”

how come they get a wall first?

The New IT Bill Is India's Great Wall

Having huge long brick walls is a thing of the past. India continues to show the world that it is capable of historic monumental world wonders – like building a huge wall between the Indian Internet and the World Wide Web. China might have their own Great Walls – the brick one and the digital one – but we are the World's Largest Democracy and therefore we will uphold democratically seceding the Indian Internet from the Global World. What happens in the parivar, stays in the parivar and no Western “Digital Human Rights” or Leftist “Personal Data Protection” will stand in our way to grow our Digital Samaaj. The social media companies may be headquartered in San Francisco, but New Delhi makes the rules babe. The Khap Panchayat has gone online.

IT CORNER AND THE ROBOT UPRISING

“Bypassing the IT Bill Still Possible, Govt Not Fascist Yet”: says Union Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw

There remains, for the moment, a small but measurable comfort in the architecture of the new IT Bill: it is not yet airtight. As Ashwini Vaishnaw has clarified, pathways around the system continue to exist, suggesting the transition to total efficiency is still underway. This residual flexibility has practical implications. Users who value their digital footprint—and the continued absence of a legal one—may continue to operate within a narrow band of permissible improvisation:

- Abolish Subtext: Metaphors are now high-risk security vulnerabilities. If you must discuss the LPG crisis, ensure you frame it as a “wife’s bad cooking” joke. The algorithm is programmed to find sexism nostalgic, but policy critique is “bad taste.”
- Synchronize Your Sediton: Post at 3:15 AM. You might win a glorious ninety-minute window of visibility before the night-shift bureaucrats at the Sahyog Portal finish their tea and hit the “Mass Purge” button.
- Check Your Measurements: If you’re posting a caricature, ensure the proportions are legally compliant. Any depiction of a chest under 56 inches is flagged as “anatomical misinformation,” and any “Vishwaguru” halo that isn’t glowing at 100% brightness is considered “visual sabotage.”

These points indicate that while enforcement has been significantly streamlined, it has not yet achieved full closure. For now, the system continues to allow a degree of participation—provided it is carefully calibrated.

Are Morning Laughter Clubs Laughing at the PM in Parks Every Morning?

Officials briefly examined concerns that morning laughter clubs might be directing their activity at the Prime Minister, but found no evidence to support this. A recent government study instead classifies the gatherings as part of an “Offline Laughter Protocol,” a pre-digital system where participants simulate laughter until it becomes genuine. The laughter is typically triggered by residual memories of jokes that required neither context nor approval, and appears to function without identifiable targets or engagement metrics.

GURUKUL CAMPUS NEWS

Universities Beg UGC To Stop Sending Money

In a move that has left the Ministry of Education in a state of catatonic shock, India's top universities have formally petitioned the University Gurukul Commission (UGC) to immediately cease all cash transfers, citing a "dangerous surplus of fiscal stability." Vice-chancellors argued that the sudden influx of infrastructure grants is "severely compromising" the traditional campus aesthetic of peeling paint and leaking library roofs that builds student character. Bharat continues to overinvest in primary and higher education, rivalling Nalanda and even the first British universities that mostly admitted twice-borns.

Savarna Students Bravely Defend Right To Be Casteist

The recently unveiled Equity UGC rules are an attack on our poor Savarna boys and girls who are now unrealistically expected to not discriminate against OBC, SC and ST students. So what if an accidentally casteist slur comes up or if a group of general category students gang up and boycott only SC/ST/OBC students. That's just usual school ragging and horseplay and has nothing to do with 3000 years of intergenerational oppression.

The Brahmin Boy is smart. Oh he the smartest there is. That's their whole thing. Being smart. That's why they didn't let the Charpris read the holy texts and imbibe knowledge. All in that cute lil ponytail that smart little Brahmin boys were told to wear to the Gurukul. Well ofcourse we call the Gurukul 'Public Schools' and 'Universities' now. But it's a Gurukul. Just look at the number of Dalit kids who don't want to be smart like us and end up on the ceiling.

Do you see any Brahmin kids in colleges hanging themselves? Nah manz they're too busy studying to build a Great India. The Lok Sabha is the glorious chamber by which a billion people's lives are decided on. But lately there's been too many people and not enough chairs. 48.4% of India or 700 million women are also represented by just 13.6% of Parliament. Our Great All Knowing NDA Govt saw this preposterous inequity and in a gender masterstroke that heralds the 4th wave of Feminism, has promised to pass the Nari Shakti Vandan Adhiniyam 106th Constitutional Amendment reserving 33% of seats for women.

Will men have to vacate their cushy adjusted butts and make way for women? No! So the Govt came up with another brilliant plan to solve the other issue of delimitation (assigning seats according to population size) and will increase the Lok Sabha from 543 to 816 seats, making way for the Savarna Kweens to take their place in the chamber of power; given that the 33% Women's Reservation Bill has no provision for OBC or Muslim women and SC/ST women will be accommodated within the existing SC/ST quota without adding more seats or reserving seats for OBC and Muslim women. Savarna women have a clear path to contest and likely dominate 75.6% of all reserved women's seats in Parliament meaning 14% of India's oppressor caste women can contest 25.2% of the Lok Sabha. Now that's women empowerment.

Nari Shakti Bill = EWS for Savarna Kweens?

"This is a win for women everywhere", Queen of the Durga Vahini said here earlier today, "And by women, I mean us entitled savarna women who possess the caste-capital to fill the newly vacant parliament seats that opened up. Why should boys have all the fun!"

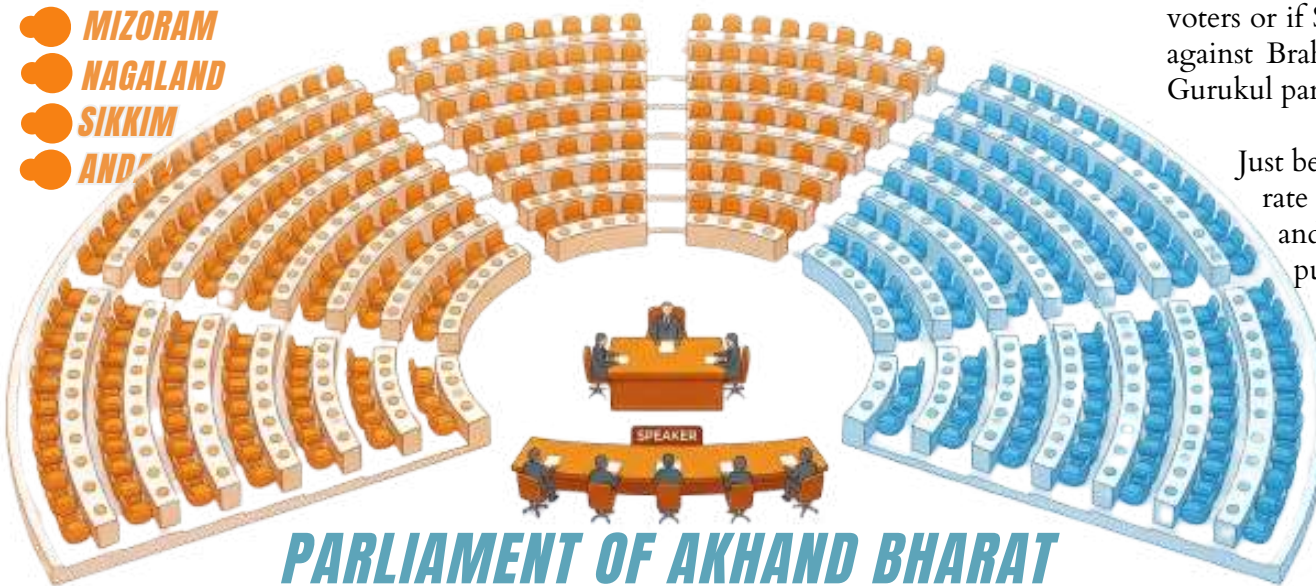

Surely you can't argue with the argument that more people means more representation equally. Could we have done this in a better way maybe by using the Demographic Performance Model or the Degressive Proportionality Model?

But why should we? These are Indians they don't understand shit if are as to go up to them and explain some very complicated proportional maths system to preserve the remaining reminence skeletal of federalism. Hell Nah bro, we just gonna be safe and give seats for everyone like Opera giving up some cars to the crowd!

And it might sound nice because everyones getting more and women get their own section but suckers probably won't understand that it just heaps more seats towards North Indian states and Savarna castes under our control so that even if we marginally lose out more ambivalent voters or if South Indian states use their Dravidian ideologies to defend against Brahmanism, we'll just have more seats with us in our great Gurukul parliament and not give the Shudras a piece of the pie.

Just because South India was able to bring down its reproductive rate by redistributing resources while investing in healthcare and education doesn't mean that North India has to be punished for focusing on more important things like building temples over mosques or chasing beef trucks.

Will the proposed 33% women's reservation and the 50% state-seat doubling lead to weakened federalism, increased savarna control over National Legislation, further slide towards Hindu Authoritarianism and North Indian Hegemony? We'll never know till we give it a try so sit back as the World's Largest Democracy uses "Feminism" and "Equality" to goon over increased centralised control and the One Nation One Thought system. The Thought being the Law of Manu obv ofc sike lmaoooo.

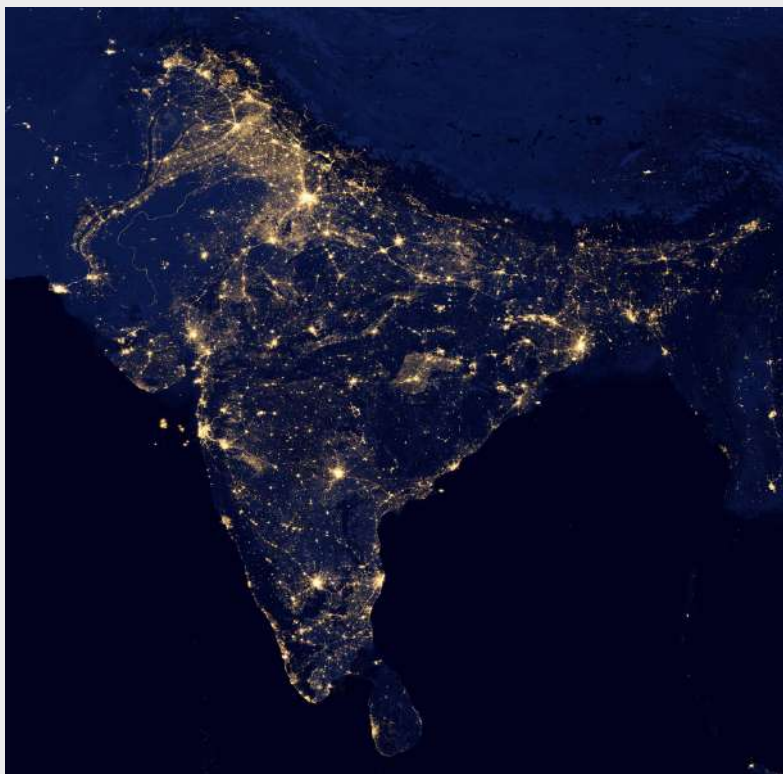

PARLIAMENT OF AKHAND BHARAT

Rebranding The World's Largest Gen Z Population

FUNDAMENTAL RIGHT FOR OLD PEOPLE TO RULE VIOLATED?

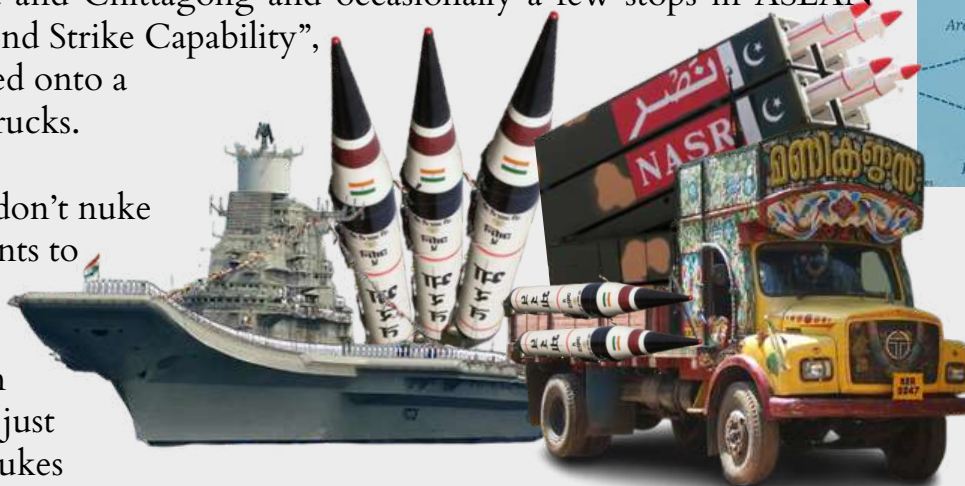

1 in 4 Gen Zers in the world lives in South Asia. 590 million people competing for three unpaid internships, asking for 5 years of experience 1 year out of college. Recent revolutions in Nepal, Bangladesh and Sri Lanka echo a type of discontent that thankfully Bharat has managed to keep under control by diverting it towards temple construction. To the fascist uncles of the subcontinent, engage with your youth. Or you could just distribute Netflix subscriptions to keep the tensions down.

Not to be ageist or nun like that, we like old people. They have a lot of wisdom. But the current gerentocracies that are heavily upper-caste fuedal male being at the helm of power across institutions in South Asia kinda bringing some of that "Dad Vibes" that male sons really grew up with only to have multiple generational trauma that they later take it out on wives and minorities. Ofcourse we need to keep the whole tradition and sanskaari and culture and that old-ass memorabilia like caste supremacy and fascism and domination and all that but it is time to put a young face on it man. There's so much youth across South Asia. All y'all states, both fascist and almost-fascist States need to work for a Brand Redesign to tap into some of this Gen Z energy we saw from Nepal, Bangladesh and Sri Lanka. Better these young lads aim their rage at someone other than you, ya get me?

South Asia's Nukes Moved To Travelling Ship-Truck Caravan

In a triumph of "jugaad" diplomacy, the recently announced South Asian Nuclear Council (SANC) has officially launched the "Neighbourhood Nuke Stash" policy where all of South Asia's nukes (mostly India's and Pakistan and a little bit of Bhutan's) are all now bundled up in a multilateral naval coalition bouncing along the ports of Karachi, Mumbai, Cochin, Colombo, Vizag, Kolkata, Dhaka and Chittagong and occasionally a few stops in ASEAN and East Africa. To ensure a "Second Strike Capability", a second bundle of nukes are loaded onto a convoy of flashy, neon-lit heavy trucks.

This will ensure 3 things. (1) We don't nuke eachother (2) Even if someone wants to nuke us (like Israel for not leasing them himachal hilltop cafes), the strikes will avoid major population centers since the nukes are mostly just floating at sea. (3) Now that our nukes aren't pointed at eachother, maybe we'll start building stuff like schools and hospitals and stuff

Sounds ridiculous? A Joint Nuclear Command System to bring nuclear tensions in the subcontinent down so that we don't nuke a quarter of the world's population get nuked, seems more unrealistic than a floating nuke-truck caravan bouncing along the Indian Ocean.

Earth On Target To Meet Climate Apocalypse Deadline

Earth has reportedly made “encouraging progress” towards meeting its long-anticipated climate apocalypse deadline, with fresh momentum coming from India, where authorities recently approved the expansion of coal mining projects to “ensure energy security during the transition.” Officials clarified that such steps are fully aligned with climate commitments. Governments have responded by announcing net-zero targets, expanding renewable energy, and approving new coal and oil projects to support the transition away from them. Emissions reductions remain alongside measures to ensure continued fossil fuel use. Climate goals have been strengthened, with timelines adjusted to reflect practical constraints. A spokesperson described the approach as “layered ambition,” noting that while solar capacity is increasing, coal consumption is also expected to reach new highs. “It’s important not to rush these things,” they said. Experts agree the strategy reflects a careful balance between long-term sustainability and immediate expansion. At the current pace, Earth remains firmly on track to meet its climate apocalypse deadline.

A rat done bit my sister Nell
With whitey on the moon
Her face and arms began to swell
And whitey's on the moon
I can't pay no doctor bills
But whitey's on the moon
Ten years from now I'll be payin' still
While whitey's on the moon
The man just upped my rent last night
Cause whitey's on the moon
No hot water, no toilets, no lights
But whitey's on the moon
I wonder why he's upping me?
Cause whitey's on the moon?
Well I was already giving him fifty a week
With whitey on the moon
Taxes taking my whole damn check
Junkies making me a nervous wreck
The price of food is going up
To whitey on the moon

And as if all that shit wasn't enough:
A rat done bit my sister Nell
With whitey on the moon
Her face and arm began to swell
And whitey's on the moon
Was all that money I made last year
For whitey on the moon?
How come I ain't got no money here?
Hmm! Whitey's on the moon
Y'know I just 'bout had my fill
Of whitey on the moon
I think I'll send these doctor bills

India Too Green To Host COP33

In a stunning display of environmental purity, India has officially declined to host COP33, citing a refusal to clear a single blade of grass for a convention center. “We simply cannot sacrifice Mother Nature for the jet fuel and carbon footprints of global elites,” officials claimed, positioning the nation as “better than Greta Thunberg,” who never actually managed to cancel a summit with her little school strikes. Thankfully, our national primary enrollment isn't at “Sweden levels,” otherwise, we'd have millions more children rioting over their futures. But it's all fine; the planet is just heating up like a pot of milk, and we'll surely find a “fanciful technological marvel” to shut off the flame right before it spills over the lid. We have no idea what that tech is, but until then, we must continue to grow, expand, and use energy: nyom nyom.

India's Strategic Silence on the World Stage Is A Masterstroke in Diplomacy

Sometimes the bully gets whats coming to him. The Great Satan of the Amerikkka thought it would end with Gaza but the unraveling is just beginning. And all just to keep Israel going. Sigh, these Americans.

After Operation Sindoor, 59 politicians from across the political aisle in 7 delegations visited 35 countries to convince Pakistan was the bad guy. Today, Pakistan may be leading the most important global diplomatic negotiations to resolve the Hormuz Oil Crisis. This is fantastic news for us because India is smart. Now Indian politicians don't need to do homework and have the weight of the world on its soldiers. We can just sit back in our cuck chairs and do "strategic nirvana" where doing absolutely nothing is actually the highest form of governance. Doing Nothing is now like our brand. This Non-Anything Policy worked great when we stayed silent as our Naval exercise guests were bombed by US torpedoes right outside our door. Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam indeed, unless it comes to having a spine ig.

Today's Akhand: Akhand Japan

The Greater East Asia Co-Prosperity Sphere

Proposed during World War II by the Empire of Japan, the GEACPS was a pan-Asian union built on the idea of the racial superiority of the Japanese and another instance of nationalism seeking to create imaginary maps built on ethno-fascism. If Subash C. Bose worked harder then maybe hmm.

All those savarna uncles who were too cool to pay attention in class because they went for coaching class and tuitions and take up STEM now want to finally learn history and political science in an easy-to-consume media format while spreading Whatsapp misinformation bootlicking political parties and policies like demonetisation because the head of a constitutional position is no more a politician but a god.

Bollywood can instead become shrill hate-mongering genocide enablers of a fascist regime while reducing entertainment and filmography and storytelling and creative arts and theatre into factory assembled hate propaganda 2 hour videos where you belittle the citizen for getting cuckolded by minorities and instill a sense of pseudo-patriotic ultranationalist Brahmanical rage at an innocent enemy to distract them, from the shackles of Brahmanical Cishetero Neoliberal Patriarchy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear SV,

While the world fixates on the Artemis missions to conquer the moon, I would like to commend our government for its far more egalitarian approach to space exploration. While NASA spends billions to send a handful of astronauts to a vacuum, our municipal planners have successfully brought the lunar surface directly to our doorsteps.

The craters on our roads are no longer mere "infrastructure failures"; they are clearly a visionary, city-wide training ground for the next generation of ISRO pilots. By meticulously maintaining a road network that mirrors the Mare Tranquillitatis, the administration has democratized planetary science, allowing every commuter in a budget hatchback to experience the weightless thrill of a suspension-shattering impact, proving that while the West looks to the stars, we have the foresight to ensure our potholes are truly world-class.

Dear SV,

Heartfelt Salam to Akhand Bharat. World's biggest Democracy is going to conduct it's much awaited but fairly unnecessary Activity — the Election — in the periphery of Aryavarta. Bengal is one such state. We truly celebrate the diversity of Bengal. After beating up Muslims and Dalits for selling chicken, BJP candidates are eating fish meal every afternoon during their campaign. To respect the historical multiculturalism of Bengal, we are making sure that voters from Aryavarta (i.e. Gujarat, UP and Bihar) cast their vote in Bengal too. Current Regime in the state has turned Tollywood industry into their party office we have successfully turned media into our Netflix. Some independent journalists were flying too much, so we've successfully arrested one through NIA. As you'll know we have removed more than 6 million muslims and some million women from Voting. Usually communist make a ruckus at times like these situations. But we are delighted to announce thag we have successfully locked them in Gaushala. TBH their misogyny and islamophobia is our biggest fuel (36% votes). We have made some little mistake on deleting a few Matua SC Hindus, who were our votebanks. But that will be managed with bihari voters. We also welcome the entry of AIMIM and the guy Humayun Kabir who wanted to make Babri in Murshidabad not in Ayodhya - cute guy. They'll help us in confusing remaining Muslim voters where to vote. There's a Hot guy who is fighting against BJP and Mamata both — he could be a threat to Akhand Bharat in future. CPIML Liberation is confused at whether publishing statements are enough or should they join the movement of deleted voters.

We have always failed in Bengal but this time we have ECI, SUPREME COURT, ED, CBI, NIA and Paramilitary forces with us. Some Ungrateful Muslims and Dalits were seen stonepelting our Paramilitary. We will unleash the worst nightmare of a Bengali. We'll make Aryavarta Army officers check Aadhar card of Bengali residents atleast four times a day. We till now thought Bengal needs a UP solution but actually some degree of Kashmir solution is required here.

Sincerely yours
Peyaji

HOROSCOPES

aries

Embrace your inner "Pooja, what is this behavior?" energy. If you find yourself at a crossroads this week, don't look for a sign: choose chaos

taurus

Your Venus is in retrograde, which is basically celestial speak for "stop ordering Biryani every time you feel a minor inconvenience."

gemini

The duality of man is you wanting to delete all social media while simultaneously checking who viewed your LinkedIn profile. This week, lean into the hustle. Invest in Adani stocks; they always seem to go up regardless of logic, physics, or international scrutiny.

cancer

You're feeling sentimental, but please, for the love of everything holy, do not text him. Pay respect to your ancestors; they would be rolling in their graves if they knew what you were up to at 3:00 AM on a Tuesday. Light an agarbatti and go to sleep.

leo

Main character energy is high, but so is your screen time. Get rest.

virgo

You want to book a one-way flight to Vietnam to "find yourself." Sweetie, you're not lost; The adventure you seek is actually just a therapy session.

libra

Google Spreadsheets is not the only thing in the world. Close your screen and enjoy the sunset. You are hurting a lot but that should not stop you from bingewatching your favourite show.

scorpio

You seek what you cannot have. So settle for a nice joint and sit back and chill. Also good to touch grass once in a while.

sagittarius

That tote-bag wearing, Sylvia Plath-reading, Daryaganj Sunday Book Market-going VSCO boy is not going to give you the closure you deserve.

capricorn

Burnout is a real thing. AI will soon take over your job (maybe). But who else can make that good of a maggi as you do. Perfect the niche skills you have and seek to develop a hobby.

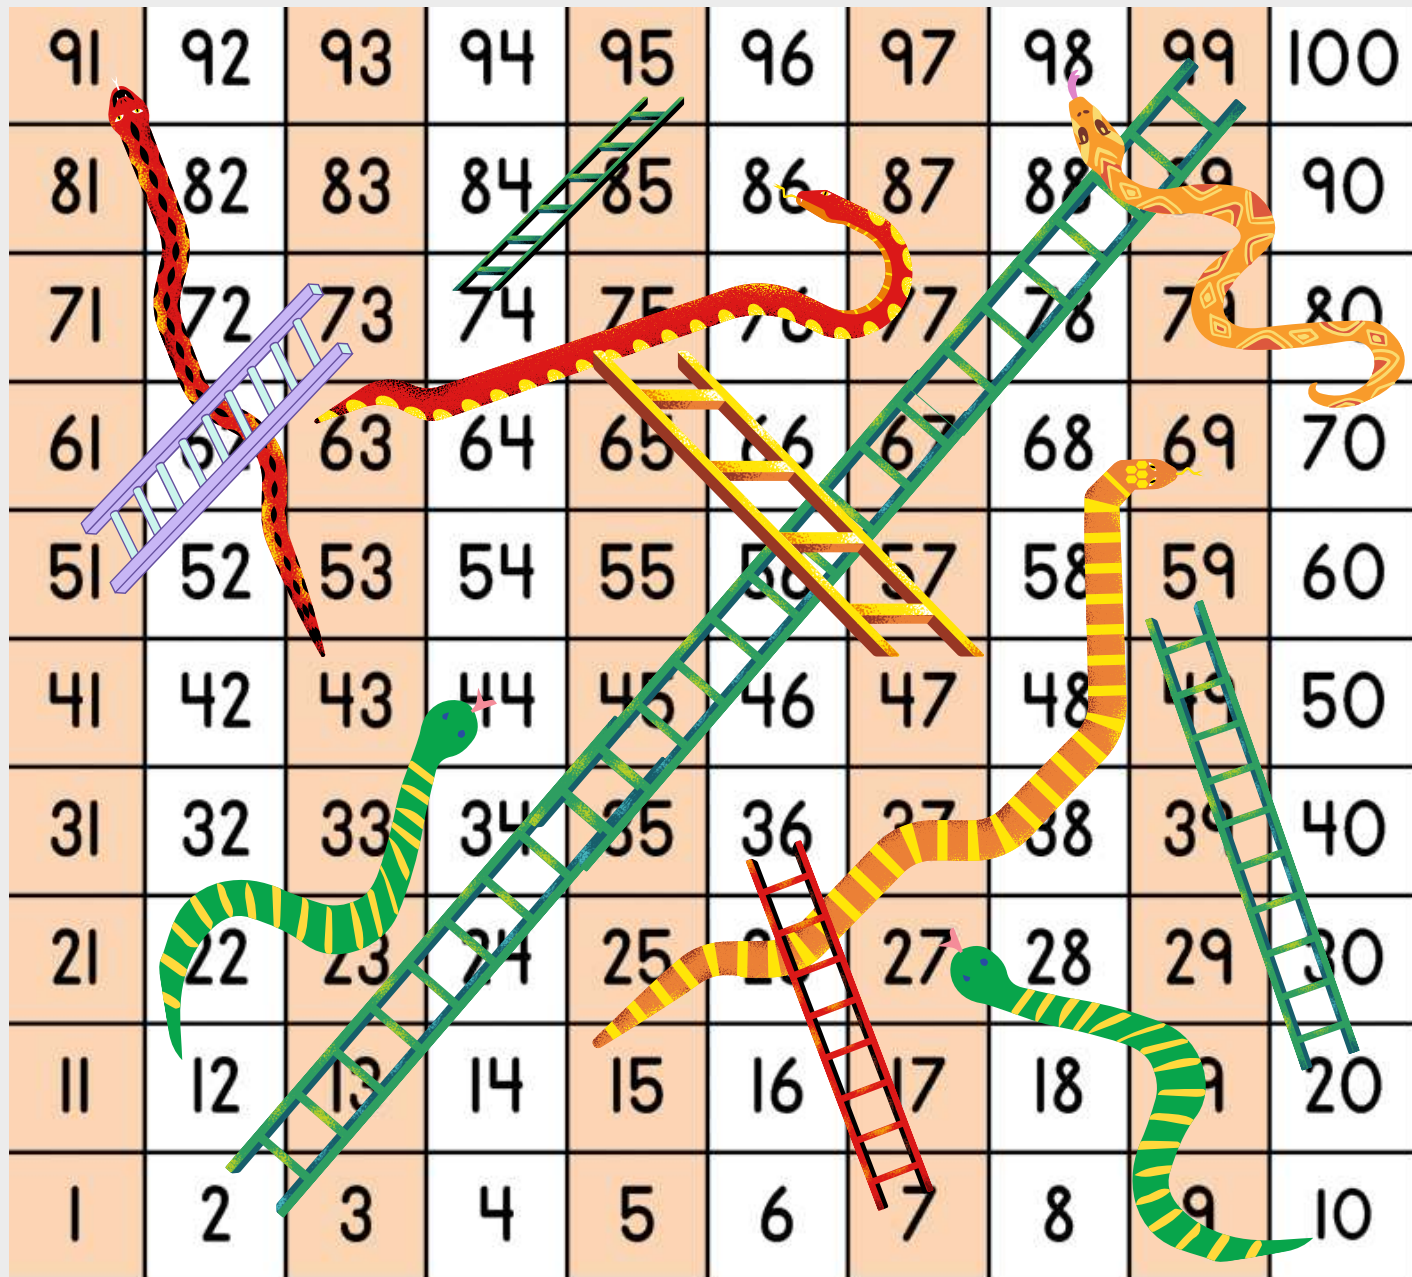

aquarius

You were left an inheritance and you are heir to a kingdom but they switched out the babies at the hospital. Today is your day to finally retake the throne.

pisces

The city life is getting too much. Take a trip outside. Enjoy the stars. Breathe oxygen. Those deliverables are not going anywhere.
